I Got Your Back

Every morning, our students have community meeting and the third question we ask each other is “Who can you ask for help today?” We all help each other on a daily basis, and here are some wonderful examples.....

- Evelyn stated, “I am thankful when Mr. Hertlein calms me down.
- Bailey said, “Many teachers help me take a break whenever I am sad to make me happy again.”
- Will said, “Brendon, Mr. Boyd, Austin, and Nico help me when I am defenseless.”
- Savannah replied, “I can count on Mrs. Lenk, Dr. Haan, Mrs. Walker, and Mr. Boyd to be there for me when I am dysregulated. They are very helpful and supportive.”
- Brendon wrote, “I trust Will and Austin. They have had my back since Ms. Andersen’s room, and I trust them with everything.”
- Reanna said, “Audi has my back and gives me gifts that always brighten my day.”
- John acknowledged, “Colton has always been there for me at school.”
- Nico responded, “Maddie is there for me when I am having a rough day.”

Knowing that someone is always there for you is a reassuring feeling we all deserve, and we can tell our Heritage family is as caring, strong, and prideful as it’s ever been.

Quote of the Month

“We rise by lifting others.”

-Robert Ingersoll-

Sanctuary Corner

Heritage Landing and several other schools in the district are not only ahead of the curve, but we have been spreading our trauma-informed Sanctuary knowledge throughout the school district. Through training, word of mouth, and our actions, the solid community we have built within a few schools is slowly but surely going district wide. Bills on trauma-informed trainings are actually in the process of being passed statewide, which is phenomenal. We are so privileged and proud to be paving the way for our district and hopefully all of Missouri.
